

Cumulus Humilis

(Cloud Pictures)
For Solo Piano

4'40''

SAMANTHA HOGAN

Program Notes:

Cumulus Humilis is the scientific name for the picturesque clouds in the summer sky. This piece is meant to evoke the images that one may see in these clouds on a warm summer day.

I composed this piece during an after dinner walk at the end of August in 2010. At the time, I had returned to Minnesota for yet another factory work filled summer to help pay for my schooling. These clouds helped bring inspiration to an otherwise uninspiring existence and allowed me to forget about the hard work week and reality, if only for a moment.

legato

This system contains measures 37 through 40. The right hand features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, while the left hand provides a steady bass accompaniment. The word "legato" is written above the right hand in the fourth measure.

41

This system contains measures 41 through 44. The right hand continues the melodic development with some rests, and the left hand maintains the accompaniment. A large watermark "PERUSAL SCORE" is visible across the page.

45

This system contains measures 45 through 48. The right hand has a more active role with sixteenth-note patterns, and the left hand continues the accompaniment. A fermata is placed over a note in the right hand in the third measure.

49

This system contains measures 49 through 52. The right hand features a complex sixteenth-note texture with many slurs, and the left hand continues the accompaniment. A fermata is placed over a note in the right hand in the second measure.

53

mf

This system contains measures 53 through 56. The right hand continues with sixteenth-note patterns, and the left hand has a more active accompaniment with slurs. The dynamic marking "mf" is written above the right hand in the fourth measure.
